Wilton

SHELBY COUNTY | ALABAMA

Located in southwest Shelby County, Wilton is intersected by Alabama Hwy 25 and is 10 miles west of I-65. Originally settled in the early 1800's as an iron and coal community, Wilton soon became a town centered around the rail industry. Today, the town remains the location of a junction of two Norfolk Southern Corporation lines. Wilton's largest employer is Wilton Wood Products, which specializes in cross-tie production for the railroad industry, and is located on 10 acres adjoining one of Stella Jones Corporation treating plants.
